“ I have a job where I work alone. I'm a busy guy taking care of my wife. Losing Seth hit hard. We enjoyed love, stories, camping concerts, my land. He always made me feel special and important to him. Our business limited our fun. I would have been with him every week if I could. Then Poof! Gone. A big hole in my heart life and future. Preparation for the memorial helped keep me from tanking. In the middle of normal business hours the church flooded with people who were touched by Seth. People who loved on us (Maria & family, Mom, Dad & family). Many faces I haven't seen in years. Family traveling in from out of state. Many people arrived who I didn't know, family, in laws, friends, loved ones, acquaintances, co workers, church families, etc. All hurting. All offering hugs and condolences, flowers, cards, help. Our family felt like we were getting our final hug from Seth through the love and respect he spread throughout his world. I don't feel so alone any more. As we go on with our busy lives I can rest assured in the love and gifts God has given to all of us in our lives. Thank you for every one that reached out. Thank you Seth for being my son. Thank you God for giving me the chance to be with him again.

“ You've been a gift to me and a true friend Seth. Someone I could trust with the most private of my thoughts. My best guy friend. A true blessing from God!!! I know you have trusted Jesus as your savior and asked him to dwell in your heart (born again, John 3:16).

I know where you are now (heaven). It will be hard here without you but I know I will see you again. Thank you God for giving me the privilege sharing the time I had with Seth here on earth.

Love Dad
