“ I have known dearest Sharyn for many years, having first met as a nurse in her doctor's office. Over the years Sharyn has been one of the most wonderful people I have ever known. Her kindness, her spirit was tremendous. Sharyn always "hunted" me down at the office, no matter where I was, she would find me! The reason for the "hunting"? No, not for demands or tirades. Her only purpose was to hold my face in her hands and say "I love you" and give me one of her special "Sharyn hugs". Last Friday, while I was in my usual chaotic whirlwind, Sharyn again tracked me down, all the way to the back of the office, again taking my face in her hands and telling me how much she loved me. I, as always, took her face in my hands, telling her the same. We hugged for a longer moment than usual...God knows, how much I will cherish that very moment forever.
Go with the angels my Dear One and soar with the birds.
I love you always.

“ I worked with Sharyn at Dr. Corbett's office and when I worked with Dr. Longo for 14 years we often spoke on the phone. We always exchanged Christmas cards. I will never ever forget Sharyn. She was a wonderful person who always made me laugh.
